Getting started in SCA Rapier

by Saionji no Hana, Branch Marshal, Province of the Mists

Find your local practice: The Mists has five active rapier practices. Join the practice's Facebook group, tell them you're interested and ask about loaner gear as most have some available.

Caer DARTH (Santa Cruz, Thursday), <https://www.facebook.com/groups/129274067163523>
Cloondara (San Francisco, Sunday), <https://www.facebook.com/groups/204532949612803/>

Lakewood Park (Sunnyvale, Tuesday), <https://www.facebook.com/groups/250755895116228/>
Rockridge BART (Oakland, Thursday), <https://www.facebook.com/groups/BARTfppractice/>

Go to your local practice: Wear clothing and shoes you can move comfortably in (e.g., tee shirt, sweat pants or jeans, socks, sneakers). Athletic cups are required for participants having external genitalia. Bring your own water.

The Branch Rapier Marshal is your point of contact. The Marshal will have you sign a waiver, then they will put you in loaner protective equipment: mask, gorget, gloves, puncture resistant jacket. During your first practice, you can expect to be taught the parts of a rapier and how to hold it, basic footwork, what a valid blow feels like to give and to be hit with, and some simple drills.

Getting started in SCA Rapier

LET YOUR MARSHAL KNOW IF YOU HAVE ANY PHYSICAL LIMITATIONS! We do not want you to hurt yourself. It is possible to develop a fighting style that works with your individual abilities – I started fighting in my 50s with a bad knee and an old elbow injury, so you can fight too, but be honest about your abilities and physical conditioning.

Expect your arm to get tired – two pounds doesn't sound like much, but after you've held it out in front of you at nearly arms-length, you'll notice.

Expect your brain to get full quickly. Your teacher will probably tell you ten things, you may be able to remember three and perform one of them. This is normal. Be patient with yourself. It's part of being a beginner.

"I'm hooked, what's next!" Keep going to practice!

Read the rules: Society Rapier Rules can be found at https://sca.org/officers/marshal/docs/rapier/rapier\_handbook.pdf

Additional standards for the West Kingdom are at http://www.westkingdom.org/sites/default/files/130930\_Rapier\_Combat\_Standards.pdf

Yes, it reads like stereo instructions. You will have questions. Ask your rapier marshal questions! They are there to help you.

You need to know the rules as part of the process of authorizing to participate in tournaments and melees at events. With regular practice, you may be able to authorize in a couple of months, it varies based on individual experience. Under supervision of a marshal you will be expected to demonstrate against an opponent that you know the rules and are not a danger to yourself or other fighters.

Start thinking about equipment: You'll need a mask with a puncture resistant hood, a gorget, gloves that overlap your sleeves and a puncture resistant garment that covers your body. A modern fencing jacket can be worn under SCA period garb, however, they tend to be hot. If you plan to make something to wear instead of a fencing jacket, ask your marshal if they can test your fabric for puncture resistance.

The last thing you will invest in is the sword. If you are inexperienced, you don't know what "right" feels like yet. Ask permission to try different swords. Blade length, overall weight and balance are all factors that you will need to consider before you choose. Writing from personal experience, a cheaper weapon may get you on the field faster, but you may not be able to grow with it as a fighter. It may be worth your while to wait a little longer and save up for a better sword that will serve you in the long run.

Castille Armory <http://castillearmory.com> and Darkwood Armory <http://darkwoodarmory.com> are the two best providers of quality weapons and other equipment.

Gipsy Peddler makes rapier legal garb and accessories, if you're not the sewing type. <http://www.gipsypeddler.com/shop.html>

As always, talk to your marshal about what they can recommend.

Duchess War

Duchess War; The Shire of Wolfscairn
June 15, 2019 - Finley Park, Santa Rosa

Reporter: Lady Arganteilin filia Elfin

It was a beautiful day for the Duchesses of Estate to call their bands of fighters to war.

The weather was perfect, the prizes were set out and the inspections were happening. Everyone was gearing up for a day of battles. You couldn't have asked for a more perfect day for all of us to gather and enjoy the friendships and food.

Lady Eddie made her traditional sticky buns and everyone seemed to enjoy them very much. Rebecca Redarrow had her game board out and people were enjoying the life size game.

All in all a marvelous event, low-keyed and fun.

Game of Wolfscairn Wolf Paws

The medieval board game Game of Goose turned into the Game of Wolfscairn Wolf Paws when Rose of Wolfscairn (Audrey Skelly) and Rebecca Redarrow (Rebecca Whitten) made it a live game using people as the playing pieces! Starting at the Kingdom of the West Demi-sun, you win when you reach home at Wolfscairn's castle. Roll the big wooden dice (made by James the Unhinged (Jim Whitten)). If you land on a wolf paw, you get to move forward again. If you land on the Wolfscairn sunshade, you lose your turn because the beer and conversation are too good to move on! If you land on Death, you have to start over. It's a load of fun! The game will travel to the next AnTir/West War – come find it at the Odd Bodkins camp. Thank you Kendra Michelle for the photos.

Getting started in SCA Cut and Thrust

by Saionji no Hana, Branch Marshal, Province of the Mists

How is it different from heavy rapier?

1. "Cut and thrust rapier also includes the use of percussive cuts as a valid blow. Percussive cuts must always be delivered with sufficient control so as not to injure the opponent while still delivering the necessary impact for a valid cut." (p. 2, Society Rapier Handbook, March 2018 revision.)

2. "...valid blows to the leg or foot are considered incapacitating, rendering the fighter incapable of further combat." (p.3)

Instead of fighting legged, a leg/foot blow is currently considered a "death."

3. "Cut and thrust rapier may not be used in melees."

Armor requirements:

1. "...the back of the head must also be covered by rigid material....sufficient to protect against percussive cuts." (p.8)

Rigid material is defined on p. 7 as puncture resistant material that will not significantly flex, spread apart or deform under 12 kg of pressure applied repeatedly to any single point. Examples are 22 gauge stainless steel, 20 gauge mild steel, 16 gauge aluminum or copper or brass, a layer of 8 ounce hardened leather. This may be accomplished by attachment to a standard 12kg fencing mask or a rapier legal helmet.

Getting started in SCA Cut and Thrust

---

2. "...elbows must be further protected by a minimum of an athletic pad or equivalent materials." (p.13)
This is bare minimum. Rigid protection of elbows and knees is not a bad idea and can be done with a set of skateboard pads.

3. "... hands and wrists require additional protection from being struck by percussive blows:

a. Areas of the backs of gloved hands, fingers and thumbs, to one inch above the wrist of both arms not protected by a hilt, parrying device, or rigid armor must, at a minimum, be protected by an additional layer of 1/4" open cell foam or equivalent resilient padding.

b. If any combatant is using a two-handed weapon, all combatants in the bout must have rigid protection for areas listed in 2.D.v.a. Examples of acceptable protection include (but not limited to): i. Gauntlets or demi-gauntlets made of rigid material covering areas not protected by the weapon's guard. ii. Commercial products such as Koning gloves, SPES Heavy gloves or hockey gloves which satisfy these requirements. (Note: Blatantly modern gloves are discouraged at official events and practices without attempting to cover logos and modern materials.)" (p. 13)

All blades must flex a minimum of 1/2" with 6 ounces(170 grams) suspended one inch or less from the tip. (Heavy rapier is 1.")

Dagger, single sword and two-handed sword dimensions are the same as for heavy rapier.

ANY weapon longer than 60" total or with a handle longer than 18" which is not configured and used like a sword is considered a spear and requires a separate combat authorization.

https://www.sca.org/officers/marshal/docs/rapier/rapier\_handbook.pdf.

This document is based on current SCA standards as of the March 2018 manual version. Kingdoms may add additional restrictions to the above, which could affect your participation in cut-and-thrust activities at interkingdom events. When in doubt, consult that kingdom's rapier rule-set and prepare accordingly.

Do you enjoy being loud?

Do you like it when people listen to you talk?

GET CONSENT BEFORE YOU ENGAGE!

STAND YOU BOTH PREPARED?

- Do not engage in intimate activity without affirmative consent from your partner.
- Consent is a clear and freely given “Yes,” not the absence of “No.”

SAFETY AND HONOR COME FIRST!

- There are no marshals! It’s up to you to check in on the safety and comfort of your partner.
- It’s wise to check your calibration. If you’re not totally sure something’s good, ask.

CALL HOLD!

- Circumstances can change in the middle of an exchange.
- Look, listen, or ask to be sure you still have affirmative and ongoing consent.
- Either party may stop the engagement at any time, for any reason.

NO UNAUTHORIZED PARTICIPANTS.

- People under 18 cannot give consent.
- Those who are incapacitated by alcohol or drugs cannot give consent.

YOU DON’T HAVE TO ENGAGE.

- Do not feel obligated to do anything you do not want to do. “I do not want to” is always a good enough reason.
- If you start to feel concerns about a person or a situation, trust your instincts and try to remove yourself as quickly as possible, even if it is someone you know and even if it feels awkward to leave.

As a society we aim for nobility and honor, but we know there are those who fall short of the mark. No one should do anything to you without your clear, unequivocal, positive consent, and if they have, it isn’t your fault.

A Day at West Kingdom Collegium

By Katira al-Maghrebiyya

Today I attended the West Kingdom A&S event. The day was warm but not sweltering and an occasional soft breeze was lovely. I spent the morning watching a couple of rapier technique classes and working on Viking knit chain in the shade of a large umbrella. I believe I learned enough about what a rapier fighter does to prepare for a shot that I can watch a fight and really have some sense of what they are doing even though what they do is so fast most of it is a blur to me.

The cook's play date was down the field from the rapier class and I walked over a couple of times to taste some AMAZING things. Wulfric had a dried sausage for tasting. Cariodoc made flat breads that were a wonderful base for the cheesy goo I watched being made with LOTS of butter and brie cheese. YUM! There were braised meatballs made by Her Highness of Cynagua. The Lady of the Swan made a delicious dish of braised venison in an onion/bacon/vinegar pepper sauce. There was mushrooms and onions to put on slices of bread. Cariodoc layered flatbreads with a cheesy (I think) filling while in the frying pan. Then rolled it around on it's edge to seal in all the melty goodness. Later he topped it with HONEY. Unfortunately I didn't get a taste of that. Juana made little fried cakes with elderflowers which I also didn't taste. AND Juana fried butter on a spit.....yes....she...did. The big fat glob of butter was skewered and rolled in a mixture of bread-crumbs and sugar. Then supported on a holder over a bowl. Behind it was some charcoal doing its best to melt the butter. She spooned more crumb/sugar on the big fat glob....turned it a bit and repeated until the heat started to soften/melt the butter. Then she instruction anyone with a spoon to scrape off some. Reminded me of Heidi and the wheel of raclette in front of the fire. Everyone exclaimed about how good it was. As some point she yelled down to the rapier field that there was good stuff to eat. When I went back over I repeated the offer. A little later a young man said he was going to try the butter. By the time I headed back to the cook's area, he was coming back with a BIG butter eating grin in his face and he said "that butter was really GOOD".

I knew from a FB post that Hilary of Serendip was coming to the event and most likely with a tin of her WONDERFUL gingersnaps as her contribution for the potluck which I did not partake in. But later I wandered down to see if there was one left. The tin was already gone. Alas. Later someone said she had gone downstairs and had 2 cookies left which would of course be gone if I ran into her after that. Now I must say here that I had responded to her post with an "I remember the tin I bought at Ducal! YUM!".

After lunch I taught my new class on Birka Chains and was pleased and a little intimidated by the room FULL of people including my own Prince and Princess of the Mists. Only 6 or so could participate in the hands on portion due to my 6 sets of tools but with lots of sharing, and the extra time I was able to get for the class, about a dozen were able to make a short chain with great success. A couple of small glitches on my part will be ironed out for the second go around at Northern Marches Collegium. One student asked me if she could teach the hands on chain making to her household and I said YES! The come...learn...do...teach cycle in action! I was thrilled!

The nine types of chains found in Birka graves

By the time I got the sunshade I loaned to the cooks, the umbrella I shared with the rapier fighters, all my class materials into the car I was exhausted but well satisfied with a wonderful day.

I went back inside to say some goodbyes and Hilary came up to me carrying the TIN and said she had saved one for me!! It was as good as I remembered. The perfect ending to the day.

If you couldn't be there, the class materials for the aforementioned Birka Chains class are in the files on the West Kingdom A&S FB group (and WESTAS yahoo group).

What a beautiful tucked-away site, plenty of sunshine and a light breeze to make the day really comfortable. There was a potluck lunch that had such an amazing assortment of lovely foods, candies, salads, chickens, sausages... too many to mention, but all of it very yummy!

The archery was fun to watch. I am not an archer and I have never been to this event before; let me tell you, I will be attending from now on. Fun filled day with throwing of the fish, shooting targets, eating good food, laughing with friends and Bardic! WOW, the Bardic had three strong competitors.
